HER STORY'S STILL THE SAME

Grand Jury To Set Penny's Fate In Murder Case

By ROY HURLBERT

Standpat that her only motive was an "urge to kill," blonde Penny Bjorkland, 18, is scheduled for indictment by the San Mateo County Grand Jury this Thursday evening on a charge of first degree murder.

The strangely passive young lady, hospitalized Tuesday for appendectomy observation, could go to the gas chamber for the February 1 slaying of August Norry, 28-year-old Daly City landscape gardener.

A normal-looking attractive youngster, Penny has remained calm and collected throughout repeated questioning by police and scores of reporters. She has not altered her explanation of the murder one iota, leading authorities to believe that everything she has said has been the truth.

But her unflinching recount of the brutal crime and apparent disregard for her own life continues to puzzle the lawmen. More than a few who coordinated her apprehension feel Penny's motive bears a little more definition.

Certainly, they reason, the girl has nothing to lose in telling all the details. If another motive were possible and is being held back by her, the question arises . . . why?

According to Penny's version, Norry was a veritable innocent victim. She could have killed anyone on this "urge" basis and Norry, she claims, just happened to come along.

Were others involved? A third party or a jealousy triangle situation? No, she maintains.

Everything Penny has disclosed since her confession early last week fits into place perfectly. She hasn't contradicted herself.

But how can a girl 18 be so rational and unperturbed and certain of every detail in such a vicious episode?

Penny, in a long-brewing fit of anger, surprised Norry with a barrage of 18 bullets. He had

ROBBERS HIT SUPERMARKET LIQUOR STORE

Robbers held two men on the floor at gun-point while they took more than $170 from the Pacific Market Liquor Store at 6212 Mission street early Thursday morning.

As Clerk Edward Ebbinger, San Francisco, chatted with his customer Joseph Keith Baird, 866 Templeton avenue, a pair of strangers entered the store and walked to the back.

They conversed by the cooler for a few minutes, got a bottle of beer, brought it to the counter, paid for it and walked out.

Ebbinger reported to police that while he and Baird went on talking the two re-appeared in a few minutes, again went to the cooler, held a whispered consultation and returned with a bottle of wine.

While Ebbinger made change from a dollar one of the pair pulled a black Luger and ordered him and Baird to the rear of the store.

They were forced to lie on the floor while the gunmen frisked them. In the process, he took the clerk's wallet which contained $47.

Then the robbers ran into a hitch when the unarmed man was unable to open the cash register.

According to the police report, the clerk was ordered to his aid. Ebbinger produced more than $100 from the till but the pair was unsatisfied.

When they asked for more he gave them a bag from under the counter which held $12 in pennies. Still greedy, they demanded the halves, which came to about $12 or $13.

Their getaway was made in an auto which neither Ebbinger nor Baird got a good look at.

They described the gunman as about 25 years old, five feet 11 inches tall, medium build, dark hair which is thin and slicked back, a pale, very smooth baby-complexion with two black moles on the right side of his face, one under the corner of his nose and the other under the cheekbone.

He was dressed in a cream-colored, short sleeved sport shirt worn outside of black cotton trousers.

His partner was also about

Mayor Ceremony, Reservoir And Zoning Monday

Regular city council meeting next Monday night at 75 Wellington avenue will find a new man in the mayor's seat. Edward J. Dennis succeeds Micheal DeBernardi.

The mayor rotation move is in keeping with recently adopted council policy of a one-year limit for the chairmanship.

Biggest items on the agenda Monday will be council verdict of the Unit 9 protests against the location of proposed city reservoir No. 6 in the Palisades and public hearing on Callan Company's rezoning request for an apartment project north of Vista Grande School.

Unit 9 spokesman and Westlake Improvement Association representatives met with City Manager George Watts Monday and again asked the latter and the council to consider moving the reservoir site some 500 feet southwest of its intended location.

Watts said he would meet with Doelger officials this week on the suggestion. The council, however, citing that the reservoir site was approved three years ago, may be unwilling to switch its locale. Should the council refuse to heed the Unit 9 homeowners, the latter have indicated they might file a court injunction to stop the reservoir from being built on its present site.

4 Withdrawals Leave 5 Candidates In Jeff Elementary Trustee Race

Four candidates withdrew from the Jefferson Elementary School District trustee battle Friday to cut the field of contenders to five persons.

One of those who dropped out, the Reverend Fred L. Fanthorpe, 787 South Mayfair avenue, promptly jumped into the Jefferson High School District race where he faces James M. Cooper, 116 Avalon drive, Sharp Park, and Joseph P. Schultz, 548 Atlanta street. Mrs. Doris Laveglia of Brisbane, filed in this race, then withdrew.

All four withdrawals came as a surprise move which led incumbent gas station owner Joseph Lewkowitz to charge that they resulted from "a piece of political engineering" designed to defeat him.

Lewkowitz, 501 Vista Grande avenue, asserted that this was

Youths Ransack House, Steal Rifles, Flee

Two rifles, a blue overnight bag and other incidentals were stolen from the house of Rodney C. Wiedenmyer at 81 Mar Vista avenue last Friday.

Police were notified of the theft by neighbors who saw three juveniles flee over the back fence with the loot in their possession.

Officer David Johnston responded and found that the intruders apparently smashed a window to gain entry and then left by way of the basement after completely ransacking the house.

Witnesses said that the three youths were between 16 and 17 years old, two of them had black curly hair and one was blond.

Boy, 10, Injured In 2-Car Crash On First Avenue

An intersection crash resulted in the injury of 10-year-old Jagnot DeVolder, 317 1st avenue, last Saturday.

He was riding in a car driven by Louis Albert Dove, 14 Paul street, which collided with the vehicle of Laurence S. Sitzman, Oakland, in the intersection of Valley and 1st avenue.

Possible back injuries were sustained by the boy and he was put under the treatment of a physician.

SECOND SURVEY LOWERS FIRE INSURANCE RATES

ONE-STEP REDUCTION

Underwriters Credit Improvements, But Still Cite Shortcomings Here

Daly City fire insurance rates, which rocketed roughly $60,000 higher early this year in a three-step jump, will be reduced one bracket and some 5 to 10 percent, according to a supplemental report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters filed with the city this week.

The city angrily asked for the re-survey following the December fire underwriters report which tagged DC with many deficiency points and shot rates from Class 4 to Class 7.

City Manager George Watts said that on the basis of the supplemental survey, a week-long check here in February, the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau will reclassify Daly City to Class 6, effective April 1, this year, date of the new survey.

Watts said the one-step reduction was recommended by the underwriters due to improvements made here in personnel, equipment and facilities, since the original survey, made in December of 1957 and January of 1958.

The council loudly challenged the three-step hike in classification four months ago, claiming the underwriters failed to take improvements and planned improvements into account, besides having many discrepancies in their bulky survey.

Although the new stepdown to Class 6 was welcome news to the city, the council feels that still another to be requested survey later this year will reduce the classification even further, possibly to Class 5 or even again to Class 4, according to Watts.

Watts pointed out that more deficiency points should be hacked off this fall once the city has two new fire pumper trucks (total of $39,000), the new Westlake fire station ($85,000 project), more firemen and fire equipment, city reservoir No. 6 (west of Skyline in the Palisades), and more well sites.

The supplemental report, authored on the findings of fire underwriter engineers Walter G. Wells and Theron R. Olson, though recognizing improvements since the former survey, continued to list many deficiencies in the water and fire department operations here.

On the water supply, in particular, the supplemental report declared there had been

CITY, BUILDER MULL CROCKER TRACT PROJECT

Representatives of Standard Builders furthered talks with the city council last week on possible annexation of their planned 1500-home development in the Crocker hills northeast of Bellevue avenue.

City Manager George Watts said the San Francisco firm, currently busy with a major project on Twin Peaks, issued preliminary inquiries on Daly City lot size specifications. No date was estimated by the company on beginning the new subdivision here — first move in what the city hopes will be the rapid development of the Crocker property for residences and industries.

Standard will utilize 86 acres in San Mateo county and 14 acres in San Francisco county for the 1500-home project.

Smaller lot sizes than Daly City requires for new subdivisions reportedly was a main question by the company in the session with the council.

Watts said the city requires 33-foot lots for new developments, compared with the county's 50-foot standard and San Francisco's 25-foot minimum.

Columbus School Contract Given To Ciampi Firm

At their regular meeting Thursday night, Jefferson Elementary School District trustees awarded the Christopher Columbus K-3 School project in St. Francis Heights to the architectural firm of Mario Ciampi.

According to Superintendent H. Z. Weibel the new structure is expected to be ready for occupancy by late 1961 or 1962. He stated that the district has not yet qualified for funds due to a present scarcity of homes in that area.

Site utilization plans were approved for both the George Washington and General Pershing Schools.

Four classrooms and two kindergartens are planned for the K-2 Pershing building which will also have a small administration building. The grade 3 to 6 George Washington site on Whittier street will

Student Knifer Will Be Sent Back To Utah

Transportation to Utah was recommended for John Rowley, who recently stabbed Barry Delfino in the back at Jefferson High, as a result of his hearing in juvenile court last Friday.

This decision was based on the fact that both of Rowley's parents are located there and that juvenile athorities in the state want him for answer to a Dyer Act charge.

It was noted by the court that Utah authorities should hold a hearing on the stabbing when they investigate his bringing a stolen car across the California line.

However, according to Anthony Lavoi, director of probational services at Hillcrest

PARK-SIDE WAREHOUSE

Council Unanimous In Granting Zoning On Piccinini Parcel

Dominic Piccinini's long-standing request for commercial zoning on the land he owns north of Westlake avenue and south of Marchbanks park was granted by unanimous council vote last week.

Passed over the continued protests of homeowners in the park area, particularly on Niantic avenue, the move allowed the cement contractor to complete plans to sell the property to the SF Glass Company for a storage warehouse.

The council's verdict came after repeated arguments against the zoning by two residents and arguments to justify the zoning by Attorney Conrad Reisch, representing Piccinini.

Mayor-to-be Edward Dennis made his motion for the zoning, stating that the matter had been discussed long enough and that, in general, the property was useless for other development and would aid the city tax rolls. Bob St. Clair seconded the motion.

Herschel Satterfield, 644 Niantic, a few minutes earlier, along with Robert Williams, another homeowner, spoke against the commercial zoning near a park and residential area. Speaking for their neighbors, they declared that the C-2 move was "not good planning, good government, nor good public relations" to let industry and commerce be so near a playground and residences.

Satterfield asked the council see to it that any commercial building erected on the land be pleasing in appearance, restricted in height to 20 feet, and to guarantee that nearby property owners would be protected by a retaining wall.

Besides charging that there had been "misrepresentation" by real estate salesmen that this area along the railroad tracks would be used for a

Demonstrations Planned For 'Fire Day' Here

Demonstrations are planned for "Fire Service Day" in Daly City, scheduled May 2 in accord with a proclamation by the governor.

Elmer Kennedy, chief of the Daly City department, announced that four stations will hold open house and that a display is to be set up in Westlake Shopping Center.

From 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. the public can visit stations two, four, five and six where men on duty will show their equipment and demonstrate how it works.

Visitors to the shopping center between those hours will have an opportunity to observe the operation of a 1000-gallon-a-minute pumper and an aerial truck with 65-foot ladders.

Demonstrations are to be given throughout the day by Battalion Chief Frank Specht and six of his men.

Open House Set At 15 Daly City Sites During 'Public Schools Week'

Plans for Public Schools Week here, which runs from April 27 to May 1, include evening open house exhibits and afternoon entertainment presentations.

Edward Morgan, Jefferson High district superintendent, reports that both Jefferson and Westmoor will be thrown open to the public on Thursday night, April 30.

Those attending can visit classrooms and see exhibits of students' work in such fields as industrial and fine arts, homemaking, science, social studies and so on.

According to Melvin Thayer, Public Schools Week publicity director for Jefferson Elementary district, the 12 grammar schools will hold open houses on various nights during the week.

On Monday night the public is invited to Benjamin Franklin, Colma K-6, Crocker and Jefferson Elementary.

Tuesday night they can visit Garden Village, General Pershing, Thornton, Vista Grande and Woodrow Wilson.

Colma Upper Grade, Olympia, Vista Mar and Westlake will be open on Wednesday night.

Parents can confer with teachers at the elementary schools plus having the opportunity to view the work which their children have accomplished during the year.

They will also be invited to afternoon sessions during which they will have a chance to see the pupils engage in dramatics, songs and dances.

SSF Truck Driver Surrenders Here On Moral Charges

A South San Francisco truck driver gave himself up to Daly City police Friday on a charge of indecent exposure.

William Fedele was booked and released on $500 bail. In the report it was noted that he has committed verbal and physical assaults upon women on several occasions here late at night.

Fedele has been recommended for psychiatric treatment and probation due to an apparent desire for reformation.

park, Williams asked that the council take no action on the zoning until DC's new master plan zoning ordinance is passed.

Reisch pointed out that any other zoning but commercial was impractical for the narrow strip of land. He added that any more delays on the zoning would kill Piccinini's deal with the glass company—an "imminent transaction."

Settlement of the Piccinini zoning ended long months of controversy on the park-side property. The cement contractor originally bought the entire strip from Southern Pacific, then sold the northern half to the city for parking and access to the park, leaving him with just the southern tip of land.

The council's move to buy the parking lot area came after it had turned down an option from Southern Pacific on the entire property, claiming the city could not afford the expenditure. Protests by more than 250 residents prompted the turn about by the council.

be built with nine classrooms, a multi-purpose room and an administration building.

Other important board business included the establishment of summer school sessions for teacher-appointed students in need of remedial work. Summer school will run, for grades two through seven, from June 22 to July 31.

A Daly City Recreation department request for $17,000 to cover its budget for the coming year was approved. The district and city share joint-use expenses.

In compliance with a state aid qualification the board approved sale of $80,000 worth of school bonds for the interest and redemption of outstanding bonds.

They also agreed to join with the Jefferson High School board in a public ceremony next month for the purpose of honoring Mario Ciampi with the presentation of two awards made to him by the School Executive magazine.

made no improper advances in their two meetings, she repeated. A married man with a 20-year-old wife expecting a baby this September, Norry told her, she went on, that he was single and 23.

Penny's parents, at 241 Oliver street, have no explanation of the shocking episode that might mean their daughter's life. The Bjorklands, a church-going middleclass couple, have three well-behaved sons, each younger than Penny.

Norry's folks attempted to see his slayer this week at county jail, but Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore couldn't get Penny to meet with them.

Norry's father, a beer bottler, wanted to ask Penny "why" she disposed of "my fine son." He added that the girl should get the maximum penalty to guarantee she won't kill someone else.

Penny said she would plead guilty as charged, following preliminary reading of charges by Municipal Judge Charles Becker in South San Francisco last week.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson, however, said the girl was entitled to full legal representation and due process of the law for her own protection.

Before a jury in superior court, Penny's age may prove a key factor in the extent of her consequences. Also of tantamount weight will be the finds of court-appointed psychiatrists. The latter may come up with something of major significance.

Capt. Roy Beecher and Sgt. Bruno Conci of Daly City and sheriff's officials Milton Minnehan and William Ridenhour worked together throughout the case and were cited by Whitmore for their alertness and teamwork in ending the mystery.

SAFETY GROUP CORRECTS 16 HAZARD ITEMS

First discussions of hazardous situations existing in Daly City public departments were held Tuesday by the Safety Committee.

Phil Brown, chairman, announced that 16 incidents of danger to the life or limb of city employees had been found by the six-man inspection team appointed to make unannounced checks on all city departments.

After consideration, appropriate recommendations were sent to the department heads for correction of the unsafe practices.

After that, a talk on the legal aspects of these problems was made to the committee by Joe Richwood, representative of the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

The committee, first of its kind in Daly City history, is made up of Joseph Arch, finance director; Otis Calhoun, public works director, and Police Chief Roland Petrocchi.

Their inspection team consists of Assistant Police Chief Roy McLaren, Police Captain Roy Beecher, Hank Weisner, city electrician; Joe Intaschi, garage foreman; Frank Specht and Mel Hansen, both battalion fire chiefs.

TEENAGE 'PET' PARTIES IRE WOMAN UPSTAIRS

Loud and profane teenage parties caused Mrs. J. West, 80 Fairway drive, to call for police Monday.

Upon arrival officers found that a group of from eight to ten males and females 14 to 16-years-old have been gathering the past two months in an empty utility room below her apartment.

Mrs. West reports that they come there on many weekday afternoons between 3 and 4 p.m. to pet, smoke, swear and steal light bulbs.

According to her, when she asks them to disperse they refuse and accompany their answer with profane abuse.

Due to the fact that they had left before police arrived on the scene she was advised to contact the station for aid if they appear again.

The National Gallery of Art at Washington, D.C. was established March 24, 1937.

Second Survey Lowers Fire Insurance Rates

no major changes in the system since the early 1958 survey.

While declaring that the reinstatement of the volunteer companies has resulted in an improvement in fire department strength, Wells and Theron repeated that the fire department "continues to be seriously undermanned and underequipped." They added that full benefit from the volunteer companies cannot be obtained until they take a more active part in the training program.

The supplemental report indicated some improvement has been made in the fire alarm system, but that operation, maintenance and alarm transmission facilities remain incomplete. Also, it pointed out that no two stations are similarly equipped and much of the system's operation depends entirely on the repeating mechanism. Operating instructions for the police department, the report continued, though improved, "are still not satisfactory and could result in an inadequate response."

Extreme hazard and possibility of a major fire in Westlake Shopping Center has been increased still further, according to the underwriters, by the addition of the bowling center and supermarket buildings, both of wooden frames.

The engineers warned that although these plants are sprinklered, their size and construction are such "as to render probable a major loss in the event of a malfunctioning of the sprinkler system."

"The shopping center district in Westlake as a whole," continued the report, "is exposed to the danger of a single sweeping fire."

Otis Calhoun, city public works director, when questioned on the fire-risky nature of the two Westlake buildings, declared they were built under a Fire Zone 2 rating in the building code. Fire Zone 1, which the council now hopes to establish for all new commercial developments, is much more restrictive and guarantees more resistance and protection against fires.

Should the council adopt a Fire Zone 1 commercial rating, the move would in no way affect the status of the already approved Westlake buildings, however.

Al W. Gilbert, general manager of the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau, told the newspaper that his office would announce within the next two weeks Daly City's reduction to Class 6 and the extent of this cutback in insurance rates.

He pointed out that the reduction in fire insurance classification was not an exception "but usually the rule" by the underwriters.

"For every instance in which we hike a city in fire insurance categories, we have about 50 cases where we reduce cities to lower insurance brackets," he said.

Daly City's jump from Class 4 to Class 7, he stated, was necessary due to the many deficiencies in the fire department reported here by the underwriters last year.

BAPTIST BUILDING

Sales Office Conversion To Church In Westlake Okayed By Planners

Two churches were granted use permits by the Daly City Planning Commission last week.

Westlake Southern Baptist Church purchased a sales office at the southwest corner of Skyline drive from the Henry Doelger company. The congregation requested permission to move the building to Northridge drive where it will be remodeled as a church.

A permit was also given for the planned Latter Day Saints Church on Hillside and Brunswick in answer to an application for exceeding the height limit of 36 feet.

In other commission action, Elmer D. Lewis was allowed to re-establish his dry cleaning business at 901 Hanover street. According to Otis Calhoun, public works director, the laundry business had been there for many years and is now re-opening after a temporary shut down.

A re-zoning petition was passed which requested the re-zoning of the easterly 25 feet of lots 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 and the re-subdivision of Union Park from a duplex residential to a commercial section.

E. Cardellini's request to change lot 24, block 3 in the Crocker Estate Tract subdivision number one located 75 feet south of Mission street on Crocker avenue, from a residential to commercial, was denied.

A tentative map of Westlake Unit 11, filed by Henry Doelger, was passed with reservations.

Two other parcels of land adjacent to the M. Pauline Brown School site have been changed from commercial to apartment use in accordance with an application by Thomas J. Callan Jr.

Held over for further study was a request by William Lagomarsino and Company to eliminate the front yard setback for an apartment building to be built at 154 and 142 First avenue, lots 22 and 23, block 3.

It was decided to conduct a hearing on two Doelger petitions for re-zoning. One request asked that the property at the intersection of Skyline and St. Francis boulevard be established for commercial use and in the other he asked that apartments be allowed on an original commercial site south of Southgate avenue and west of Park Plaza drive.

Also held over was a resolution to adopt a general plan of land use on the public hearings held February 25 and on March 26.

TRUSTEE HOPEFULS AT THE POST

Filing deadline last Friday gave voters a most interesting lineup of candidates to choose from in the elementary and high school district trustee races at the polls on Tuesday, May 19.

The Jeff Elementary battle for two three-year seats looms as a dilly. Intensified by the unexpected withdrawal of four candidates late last week, this contest appears to be split right down the middle.

On one-side are incumbent chairman Joseph Lewkowitz and Donald Lesher. Teamed in the other camp are Westlakers O. Wayne Douglas and Marvin Nathan. Middleground is occupied by John Evangelisti, like Lewkowitz and Lesher from the older part of town.

The one vacancy on the high school board is sought by Pacifica's Jim Cooper, a Sharp Park resident; Reverend Fred Fanthorpe of Westlake, and Joseph Schultz, a result of the new home development on the east side of Daly City.

Both races offer much speculative imagination.

Voting residents should give each candidate full consideration and not depend of rumors, hearsay and prejudicial publicity blurbs.

YOUR CITY SALES TAX AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

(Third in a series of articles submitted for publication by members of the City Council of Daly City.)

One year has passed since the Daly City Council adopted the one-cent retail sales tax ordinance.

During this period, $330,000 has been collected by retail merchants and turned over to the city treasurer.

Has the city council gone on a spending spree with all that money?

Hardly.

This possibility, however, was taken into consideration, and as a safeguard against reckless spending the council took action to earmark half of the sales tax revenues for capital improvements; the other half aplies toward the reduction of city property taxes. (The average Daly City homeowner saved nearly $25 on his tax bill as a result.)

What about these capital improvements? Are they necessary?

If so, is there some other way to pay for them?

Daly City is one of the fastest growing cities in Northern California. It is a community that enjoys a high degree of prosperity. Business is good and property lying within the city boundaries is being developed by business, industry and commerce.

The benefits of this dynamic growth are shared by everyone in the community — lawyer, salesman, hairdresser, mechanic, florist, carpenter, truck driver.

But this kind of growth carries with it an obligation on the part of city government to provide facilities to keep the city safe, clean, attractive and enjoyable.

Among the most critical current needs facing the ctiy are:

1. Library Facilities — Parents' groups and school leaders have urged construction of an adequate city library to house books and equipment that have been—and are continuing to be—donated.

Half of the needed funds are already on hand — set aside from sales tax revenues received during the past year. This project, so important in the cultural development of a community, can be started soon and completed next year.

2. Fire Station and Equipment — Lack of funds to provide an additional station and needed modern equipment has resulted in a recent downgrading of the fire department by the Board of Fire Underwriters and an increase in fire insurance rates.

The city must meet this desperate need! Money will come either from the capital outlay funds provided by sales tax revenue — or by bond issue. Bonding involves the increase of your city property taxes. Further, interest on bonds makes this method more expensive.

The sales tax makes possible a pay-as-you-go building program.

3. City Hall — City departments are operating in a building designed to serve a city of 10,000 people. Daly City's population today stands at 35,000 — and this figure is likely to double in the next decade.

Meanwhile, police and other departments work under severe disadvantage because of lack of space and equipment.

Modernization that will save taxpayers money has already been started with the installation of mechanical equipment —made possible through the capital outlay fund. Continuation of this money—a result of the sales tax—will permit additional improvements.

How are other cities providing money for building and expansion programs?

The vast majority are doing it with sales tax revenues. Only a handful of cities in all of California (these are in San Mateo County) are now operating without the penny sales tax.

If they do not have the sales tax, the only alternative is the bond issue.

There are no frills in Daly City's capital improvements program. City officials are planning only for basic, functional buildings and equipment to meet real community needs.

A delay in this program will only retard the city's business and residential growth.

(Next week: The sales tax can be imposed at county level via Bradley-Burns Act.)

Colma K-6 Pupils Tour Banana Boat From Latin Ports

Jack Holland of United Fruit Company recently directed a tour of Barbara Busetto's sixth grade Colma K-6 boys and girls through the "Heredia," a banana boat from the West Indies and Central America.

Holland gave the Colma K-6 children a short history of the banana, as well as pertinent facts regarding the transportation of this popular fruit. The second mate of the ship spoke to the group about its steering apparatus, fire alarm equipment, and radar and telegraph systems.

Besides their teacher, the children were accompanied by their student teacher, Miss Shirley Santa Marina, and room mothers, Mrs. Edgman and Mrs. Sineath.

Colma First Graders 'Down On The Farm'

Are the first grade boys and girls in Clara Klaisner's first grade class at Colma K-6 School embarking on a career of raising chickens? Only time will tell.

Much excitement prevails in the classroom since the arrival of a chicken incubator. The children have observed the structure of the incubator, learned its purpose and methods, and helped to place four dozen eggs within it. At present there is nothing to do but wait and see!

CONDUCT IN CLASSROOMS

Behavioral Policy Set By Elementary District

By Con Regan

Discipline was discussed by the Jefferson Elementary School District trustees Thursday night after hearing a report from Dr. Douglas Harkness on the subject.

Harkness presented the findings of a committee composed of teachers and other school officials, on which he served as chairman, appointed last fall to do research on the subject.

After hearing the study group's conclusions it was decided to adopt them for inclusion in the staff handbook.

Primary in the new guide for teachers will be the premise that while disciplinary action should always fit the misbehavior it should be borne in mind that its purpose is constructive.

Thus, punishment must always be aimed at effecting an improvement in the offending child.

Due to the fact that children in the district come from all kinds of homes considerable flexibility of action is permitted teachers and school officials in dealing with a disruptive pupil.

They are permitted to physically restrain a child in a "reasonable manner without anger or malice." Further, they are cautioned they are personally liable under California law for their actions in matters of that kind.

In their report the committee strongly urges that extreme cases which might require corporal punishment be handled by the principal. They point out that he should administer such measures only after all other methods have failed.

Types of discipline which are not condoned include the assigning of extra curricular work, copying pages from reference material, or the writing of a certain number of lines or sentences.

Also, students can not be kept in school during the noon hour or a recess except as a health measure. However they can be kept in after school although if they ride a bus their parents must be notified and transportation arrangements made.

Another subject of study and recommendation by the committee was a truancy policy.

This requires the notification of parents that their child has been absent without valid excuse for over four days, which circumstance, under California law, makes him a bona fide truant.

In the first notice a parent-school conference is requested. If the situation continues the home is again notified and this time they are told that the case will be turned over to the county welfare officer for a pre-truancy hearing.

When truancy persists beyond that point a letter is sent out informing both the parents and child that legal action will be taken against them.

The study group also drew up a tentative policy on suspensions and expulsions. They warn that these steps must be taken only as a last resort.

First step in the procedure is to warn a child and his parents that such action will be necessary if misbehavior persists. A written consent to suspension from the pupil will be obtained and filed.

When the situation continues the parent is notified that suspension has been effected and that no re-admission will be permitted unless he accompanies his child to the school for a conference.

In extreme cases a notice of legal action for expulsion will be sent out.

According to H. Z. Weibel, district superintendent, all these procedures will be included in the staff handbook to serve as a recommended guide for action on the part of the teachers and school authorities.

"However," he said, "none of this is compulsory and they are always permitted to use their own judgment."

Those serving on the committee included Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, principal of Westlake; Dr. Lloyd Andrews, vice-principal at Colma; Dr. Mildred Morrin, counsellor at Benjamin Franklin; Mrs. Helen Delafield, teaching coordinator of health and nursing; Mrs. Ann Gray, third grade teacher at Jefferson, and Mrs. Claire Ballou, fifth and sixth grade teacher at Thornton School.

Youth Art Exhibit Winners Announced

Hundreds of people viewed the many creative efforts of students here during last week's Lions Club Youth Art Exhibit in War Memorial Building.

According to general committee member Elio Fontana, much comment was heard from the show's visitors on the cleverness displayed in the entries.

He reports that further high compliment was paid to the work when both judge Alexander Nepote, associate professor of art at San Francisco State College, and Laurence Patterson, director of art at College of San Mateo, remarked that the talent displayed here is superior to that which they viewed in other cities.

This made it a difficult job for the two men to pick the winners. However, after lengthy consideration they finally awarded the grand prize to Richard Lair, a Jefferson High junior.

His creation was a still-life nature study in watercolor and paper glued over paper and ink.

Other high school prizes in the pictorial division went to David Mark and Ann Thompson, both Westmoor juniors, and to Dan Whitney, a junior, and Kathryn Glover, a senior at Jefferson High.

For crafts, five Westmoor and Jefferson student copped honors. A cup went to Richard Gomez, senior; a plaque to Janis Schneider, senior; and ribbons to Ruth Ponchione, junior, and Edward Ralingo, senior, all of Westmoor, while Ted Sailor, Jefferson senior, also took a ribbon.

In photography, all prizes went to Jefferson students: Leroy Kusber, sophomore, took the cup, Ted Sailor the plaque and a ribbon, while Tom Carson, a sophomore, and Len Mejia, junior, also took ribbons.

Three Thornton Elementary students won ribbons in the ungraded class. They went to Thomas Wiegand, James Monroe and Danielle Lendgren.

Pictorial awards in the seventh and eighth grades were given to four Benjamin Franklin pupils. Susan Becker, seventh grade, walked off with the cup. Ribbons were awarded to Francis Abbot, eighth grade, Linda Caldwell, eighth grade, and Walter Lane, seventh grade. The plaque was taken by Harry Anderson, seventh grade, and a ribbon by Christine Christano, seventh grade, both of Colma School.

Craft awards went only to Benjamin Franklin students. Pamela Byrne, eighth grade, got the cup; Sharon Castle, seventh grade, the plaque; Doug Shanoian, eighth grade, David Nelson, and Richard DeMartini, seventh graders, received ribbons.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade awards in the pictorial class were split between Holy Angels and Westlake. Robert Scott walked off with the plaque and James Hoffman a ribbon. They are both sixth graders at Holy Angels. Ribbons also went to Christine Castagnola and Nina Marie Vigano, fourth graders at Westlake.

A cup was given to Mr. Knudsen of Jefferson for his fourth grade projects.

A crafts division cup was presented to Mrs. McKeown for her sixth grade class project in Colma K-6 School. Plaques went to Donald Riggio and Henry Ayala, Thornton fifth graders

Others from that school taking awards were Richard Fioresi and John Adams, sixth graders and Christine Liberato, grade five, who were given ribbons. Bobby Aiello, grade five at Thornton, got a similar award.

Westlake School took three awards in the second and third grade group. Mrs. Berber's third grade class project got the cup while ribbons were awarded to James Lanning and Nancy Nichols, both third grade.

Kim Nickas, second grade at Garden Village, and Anthony Mezzanotti, Vista Grande third grader, also got ribbons.

In the Kindergarten and first grade group Mrs. Sheilds took the cup for the Kindergarten Group Project in Garden Village.

Jan Curry, General Pershing kindergarten, got a ribbon. So did Stephen Whaler, Vista Mar first grade, and Lorie Ann Elchinoff, Olympia kindergarten.

Speaker at this week's Lions meeting was Phil Brown, city administrative assistant, who discussed the favorable points of sales tax here.

The Lions also officially lauded member H. Z. "Ted" Weibel, general chairman for the well-attended Youth Art Exhibit.

CALLAN REZONING PETITION SCORED BY HOMEOWNER

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

Regarding the Callan petition for rezoning blocks in the Gambetta, Lausanne and Wyandotte area, I should like to call to your attention that no property owner of a residence anywhere in Daly City can feel secure in the zoning laws as now administered, if one builder can negate the Land Use Plan and effect spot-rezoning, with or without the protests of the residents involved.

Most sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Duke

The Town Record

By ROY HURLBERT

Must have been close to 200 teachers and friends at appreciation dinner Monday night for outgoing Superintendent H. Z. "Ted" Weibel of the elementary school district.

Only incongruous factor was the gift presented the 54-year-old administrator. Sort of a suitcase for papers and/or clothing.

Ted isn't about to leave the community he has devoted eight busy years to. He'll stay in the district as a principal at one of the new schools.

Chamber of Commerce awards dinner for 10 deserving DC high school scholars last week was fitting and well executed.

Parents as well as the proud preps got nice rounds of applause.

Best comment of the night was District Supt. Ed Morgan's regarding the type of students in our schools.

"Ninety-nine percent of our pupils are good kids. It's that one percent that brings unfavorable and unfair publicity."

Unfair, that is, to the 99 percent.

Wonderful that Mrs. Irene Meussdorfer, pleasant former opera personality and heir to the famous international hat family, has agreed to sell her land to make room for the George Washington elementary school site.

Two new schools are long overdue in the old Pershing area off Hanover street.

For awhile, the gracious lady's reluctance to negotiate gave us an idea. Why not persuade her by naming the school after her family?

This step wouldn't go along with the American tradition of naming public buildings after famous historical greats, but aren't there too many repeated names for schools these days?

Credit where it's due in the tragic case of Rosemarie "Penny" Bjorkland belongs to Daly City police inspectors Capt. Roy Beecher and Sgt. Bruno Conci, in particular.

Despite Sheriff Earl Whitmore's briefing to the press that Daly City officers carried the load in wrapping up the case, many newspapers practically forgot that Beecher and Conci did most of the brain and leg work.

DC authorities labored round-the-clock on the crime. It was a real tough one to figure out—a challenge to the best in the business.

"New look" student newspapers at Jefferson and Westmoor, the Totem Pole and Rampage, rate with the best we've seen in the Northern Cal area.

This is in keeping with the caliber of instruction offered at the plants supervised by John Mongan, expert on literature, and Glenn South, one-time Rose Bowl quarterback (behind Albert) at Stanford.

The two DC schools get more than their share of student and teacher scholarships.

His father was consul general of Chile at San Francisco from 1943 to 1948 and is now ambassador of Chile in El Salvador.

Guzman's duties as honorary consul will be social in nature although he can be called upon to substitute for the consul, Eugenio Ovalle Devoto, in the event of the latter's absence from the city.

St. Vincent de Paul Society Opens Spring Salvage Drive This Sunday

A charity appeal that seeks castoffs, and not cash, will be conducted in San Francisco and the 12 neighboring Bay Area counties by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul commencing this Sunday, April 26.

In honor of the occasion, and of the Society's 99 years of service to the community, SF Mayor George Christopher has proclaimed the week of April 26 to May 3, to be "St. Vincent de Paul Salvage Week."

For almost a century, the society has been aiding families that need assistance and are eligible to receive aid from any of the usual agencies.

The increasing need is illustrated by the fact that the first volunteers of the Society aided only 135 families in 1860 compared to the 13,000 families that received assistance in 1958.

To help in their work, the Society is asking for your usable discards such as furniture, household effects, clothing and other castoffs. These are put to good use.

Last year alone, the Society gave, free of charge, materials valued at $47,000. The rest of the material is sold to marginal income families who make their purchases for next to nothing.

This in turn gives employment to hundreds of handicapped men and women who work in the salvage bureaus and thrift shops of the Society.

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul has a year round job of caring for the poor. Some 1200 volunteer Vincentians go into the highways and byways day after day and night after night, bringing consolation and realistic help to those that need it.

Call your local St. Vincent de Paul Salvage bureau and a Society truck will come at your convenience to pick up your usable salvage.

Police Suspicious Of Runaway Boys' Activities

Two missing juveniles were discovered sauntering along San Diego avenue in the wee hours of Tuesday morning by Daly City Officer Steven Steen.

Upon questioning the boys revealed that they had spent the night in company with a poolhall companion who lives on Los Olivos avenue.

The youths said this friend had first entertained them at a San Francisco theater and later took them to his apartment.

There, it is believed, the man, age 22, rapidly fell under the influence of alcohol and Officer Steen noted the possibility that the teenagers may also have been supplied with the beverage by him.

Both boys were cited by Steen for several juvenile violations, including second offences. One was sent to Hillcrest Juvenile Home and the other released in custody of his parents.

Friends in the district are invited to visit Colma K-6 School classrooms at any time, but they are especially invited to observe these planned activities.

Jeff High PTA Pair At Meet On Publicity

New Jefferson High School PTA president Mrs. Joseph Kusber and vice president Mrs. Bernard Painchaud attended the 17th District PTA meeting in Belmont last Thursday.

The meeting concerned publicity inside, outside, and public relations, given by the secondary service and communications department.

Mrs. Kusber acquired many new ideas for improving and enlarging the scope of the 1959-60 program.

At Tuesday's meeting next week, she will bring under discussion the new ideas and also show executive board members the skit "Footlight Fantasy."

Mrs. Painchaud has mapped out a tentative program of activities for the coming term. This also will come under discussion at the meeting Tuesday, April 28, in the Jefferson High School faculty room.

Momentary Lapses By Good Drivers Lead To Accidents

"Most motorists are capable drivers most of the time—it's the momentary lapse in attention and alertness that is usually responsible when these drivers get into trouble," according to Captain John W. Kennedy, commander of the California Highway Patrol's Redwood City office.

"We know that the great majority of traffic accidents result from a violation of the law. In most cases the violation was unintentional, the result of a brief period of distraction from the business of driving caused by any one of several reasons. Even good drivers are liable to have these distractions unless they constantly guard against them."

Captain Kennedy noted that a skilled driver always drives defensively and thus is prepared to meet any emergency caused by another person's negligence or unlawful action.

"He knows that the responsibility for safety is pretty much up to him alone and that he cannot rely on the other fellow always to do the right thing."

Women dip hands in water over 200,000 times a year!

Women dip their hands in water over 200,000 times a year, just doing dishes alone, according to George Geiger, owner of the Culligan Soft Water Service.

"As a result, when the water is hard, it becomes almost impossible for the average homemaker to keep her hands soft and smooth," Geiger declared.

Keep them smo-o-th!

Sudsy soft water helps keep hands beautiful and smooth because it is free from the harsh minerals that redden skin. When hard water minerals combine with soap, a curd or film is formed, familiar to most people as the "bathtub ring." This film coats everything it touches and will not readily rinse off with water.

The answer.

The answer is Culligan Soft Water Service; there's no equipment to buy . . . so you don't have to buy it to try it!

Soft Water Suds.

Monthly service rates are as low as 1.00 a week, plus modest original installation charge.

Library Buys 1100 National Exhibit Books

A recent purchase brings the Daly City Library 1100 books that were on exhibit during the last week of March at a nationwide library convention in Chicago.

According to Samuel Chandler, city librarian, these books represent a cross-section of the best and most useful books in print. They were chosen by the Combined Book Exhibit Inc. of New York City to be a core collection of a small but effective library.

After studying the list, the librarian explained, the Daly City council gave permission to buy the books to replace material in the Westlake Library which belongs to San Mateo County. The prompt action of the council enabled Daly City to buy the books before any other library in the country could make an offer. Reports show that at least six other libaries were planning to take the collection if they could get it.

Chandler said that there are over 500 adult books and an equal number of children's books. Among the adult books are encyclopedias, dictionaries, fiction, and popular books on politics, science, literature, medicine, art, television, and many other subjects. All of the children's books have appeared on approved school and library reading lists.

"To this collection we plan to add books that will make the libraries of Daly City truly places of culture and pleasure," Chandler said. "Already we are studying lists of the most absorbing novels, myteries, science fiction, westerns, non-fiction, and children's books."

OLPH DRIVE BRINGS IN 14 TONS OF PAPER

"Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church Men's Club has completed a very successful paper drive, getting 14 tons in the appeal. The Scout groups sponsored by the club will share in the proceeds.

First prize for the most papers collected went to Art Ramos Jr. Five more prizes will be awarded to other ambitious workers.

The club announces its "thanks" to the James Donahue De Soto-Plymouth agency and C. Ragone, vice-president of the Men's Club, for the use of their pickup trucks for the drive.

Plans are being made for the next paper drive, which will probably be held in August."

SATURDAY EXHIBITION

900 DC-Colma Girls In 3rd Annual 'Scouts In Action' Spectacle Here

Daly City's War Memorial Building will be a beehive of activity this Saturday, from 1-4 p.m., when approximately 900 Girl Scouts from the Daly City-Colma district take over to demonstrate and exhibit their accomplishments at their third annual 'Scouts-in-Action' show.

The Girl Scouts range in age from 7 to 18, and come from four neighborhoods — Broadmoor, Parkview-Sterling Park, Peoria, and Westlake.

Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, Mayor-elect Edward Dennis, and other city officials will be at the show to welcome guests at the opening ceremonies at 1 p.m.

There will be several new exhibits this year. One is a Junior High Inter-Troop activities booth. This year there will be a service project called "Play Corner." Intermediate Girl Scouts will teach small children who come with visiting parents and also young Brownies, songs, games, finger plays, and read stories. There will also be a Publicity Booth for those who may have "news and views" to cast for "Nosey-Rosey."

Several prizes will be awarded the poster contest winners.

One may listen to sweet music, watch the folk-dancing, or fashion parade, or leisurely wonder about the main auditorium, or go browsing through the lobby, and into the Green room or Coral room and see the displays.

Last year, visitors came from far and near and were awed at the remarkable array of projects.

Admission is free. Everyone is welcome.

Investigation by Daly City police failed to turn up any suspects.

OLM Pygmies Win Again, 6-3

Arnke also received strong support from Dan Scannell, who tripled, and from first baseman Dave Thompson and catcher Bill Feeley, who again came through with key hits.

The OLM team, coached by William Feeley and Lloyd Madigan, play their next league game against St. Johns at Aptos Diamond this Sunday at noon.

Don't Overlook Good Breakfast: PTA Speaker

What is the Mighty Mite of Breakfast? Does your family eat a good breakfast? Over 40 per cent of our population skips breakfast or eats very little, Mrs. Evelyn Vaughn, PG&E nutrition expert, told the Vista Mar PTA unit meeting last week.

Stressing the value of eating a nourishing, wholesome meal after a fast of 12 to 18 hours, Mrs. Vaughn cited the most common reasons for skipping breakfast were, "I want to lose weight," "I'm not hungry, and I'm in too much of a hurry."

Showing slides of inviting and exciting breakfast menus, Mrs. Vaughn also showed a slide of a typical American breakfast which consisted of a cigarette, cup of coffee and the morning newspaper. Breakfast doesn't have to be boring and monotonous, she stressed, and can be prepared in 12 to 20 minutes. To prove her point and relate new ideas, Mrs. Vaughn distributed a booklet called "A Good Breakfast and a Good Day" to each member present.

Mrs. Robert St. Clair, unit president, introduced Sam Chandler, Daly City librarian, who spoke in behalf of the Friends of the Library for Public Library Week and encouraged everyone to "Wake Up and Read."

Red Cross Offers Ten-Hour Course In First Aid To Interested Groups

"Everybody is interested in preventing accidents, but not everybody does something about it," says Miss Helen R. Fletcher of 133 Westbrook avenue, Daly City, volunteer first aid instructor for Red Cross.

"We are offering each and every person in Daly City the opportunity of learning first aid in an easy 10-hour course that is as much fun to take as it is valuable, and we will bring the free classes right to the neighborhood." Any organization—Lions Club, Rotary, PTA or any group of persons can contact the Red Cross to have a qualified first aid instructor sent out to teach the class.

The first aid expert cites the need for the Red Cross program by stating that the tragic accident toll each year in the United States is 95,000 deaths and more than 10 million injured. Helping to reduce this loss of life and accident rate by preventing accidents and providing emergency care for accident victims is the primary objective of this program.

Destruction derbys were the top magnet at the box office the past season, and if the advance ticket sale for this show is a criterion, extra bleachers may have to be erected in the pit area again.

The time of 8:30 has been set to start the demolition event.

County To Aid Its High School 'Underachievers'

James R. Tormey is announcing that the plan of the Guidance Division in the county school department and San Mateo County secondary schools for a research program under Title V of the National Defense Act has been approved by the State Department of Education.

Detail work is starting immediately so that the full project will go into action in September of 1959.

The workers on this project will be concerned with helping students of high intellectual abilities to realize their potentialities.. Since it has been estimated 10% of San Mateo County high school students are talented "underachievers," the research team will study ways to encourage such students to use their abilities.

The first problem is finding these students, since they may have shown little evidence of their real abilities. Using the Differential Aptitude Tests, the researchers will take as their subjects students in the San Mateo County high schools who score in the top quarter of their class, and who are doing relatively poor work in their basic courses.

After finding these students, the research team will gather information about them which will aid in the program to change their attitudes toward studies. Finally, they will be told of their abilities and encouraged to study harder and to prepare themselves for higher education.

The project will require three fiscal years to complete. An advisory board consisting of an appointed representative from each secondary school district will be added to coordinate the work in the several districts.

Various methods of group and individual counseling will be attempted and evaluated, in the expectation of finding the best method for helping potentially superior students. The results of this research should have significance, not only for those students whom it directly helps, but for the nation as a whole, in helping to utilize all of our intellectual resources.

BOY HUNTS FOR NAILS ON BIKE, FINDS TROUBLE

While "looking for nails on the ground," 12-year-old Theodore Harvard Gordon zigzigged his bike to the wrong side of the road Monday and rammed an oncoming car.

Officer James Sunderland stated in his report that the vehicle, driven by Geraldine Opal Peterson, 570 North Mayfair avenue, bumped the boy to the ground, causing injuries which required attention at Junipero Serra Hospital.

An x-ray was taken of his elbow. Following that Gordon was released to his home at 91 Garden Grove.

In an investigation following the accident, the boy said "I was at fault," according to officer Sunderland. No citations were issued.

Colma K-6 Students Good With Mosaics

The boys and girls of Helen Dubacher's third grade at Colma K-6 School are very proud of an original mosaic completed by Skipper Mayfield.

His design of a sailboat stands out because of the shells, stones and colorful rocks he has used to effect it. Richard Rajkowski's mosaic of an owl on a tree done with red beans and peas is outstanding, too.

A class-project mosaic has been done with tiles, shells, rocks, and glass. The design is an Indian girl picking corn. The class has been studying the living habits of the Hopi Indians.

ANIMALS IN CLAY

Woodrow Wilson Fifth Graders Make Mural For Blind Students

By Bertha Kessler

The children of Miss Eunice Wright's fifth grade class at Woodrow Wilson School are most interested in helping to enrich the lives of the blind children in their school.

Under the direction of Mrs. Helen Cordell, art coordinator, and Mrs. Hortense Sundman, teacher of the blind class, these children are making a three-dimensional clay mural of zoo and domestic animals.

Mrs. Cordell's first stimulation was a contest for the best photographs of animals. Candy Barrett and Cecelia Lindquist won with some excellent snaps taken during a visit to the zoo.

Each child chose an animal to do and with paper-covered desks and lumps of clay the work began.

Not a simple job — this of making one who has never seen see something we take for granted. What do we associate with each of these animals? The hippo — a big head and mouth. Hence toothpicks to prop open a reluctant jaw. The giraffe? A long neck. "But, Mrs. Cordell, every time I get it long enough the head falls off!" The rabbit? Long ears, of course. The kangaroo? A baby in the pouch. With one boy's complete absorption an excellent kangaroo emerged, equipped completely with baby.

Shape alone is not enough to give the blind a picture of the differences in these animals. Armed with all sorts of improvised tools, the class began the difficult task of texturing. A comb served well to give the hairy ape a saggy appearance; a paper clip makes wonderful wool for the sheep. With pencils, scissors, fingernails and lumps of clay the lumpy toad became lumpy, the buffalo acquired his tremendous ruff and the lion mane; the fish got his scales and the crocodile his rough back.

The next task was mounting each on a clay slab without destroying the shape and the three-dimension aspect. We know that a line means little to the bind. Have you tried tracing with your finger an unknown object's outline on a comparatively flat surface? No concept of shape remains with you, there's no beginning or end. Hence the importance of keeping each individual shape and texture.

Mrs. Sundman was our next specialist. When we with vision see a picture of the unknown, we rely on a title or caption for knowledge. For the blind it is the same, so Mrs. Sundman wrote in braille the name of each animal. With tiny bits of clay and painstaking precision, the children labeled each plaque.

Our part of the project is over except for the waiting. To our knowledge there has been no comparable undertaking. There seems to be some questions by many working with the blind as to the value unless the animals are real. Our findings should be most helpful to all interested and may be later published.

The mural may be viewed at the Daly City-Colma Lions "Youth Art Exhibit". Later it will be placed permantly in the special room for the blind, since Woodrow Wilson is the only school in the elementary district with a program [illegible] as well as women.

Dave Dunbar Threatens U.S. Record In 880

BEST IN THE NATION

Brilliant Westmoor Senior Hits 1:53.3

Eyes of the track world are on Westmoor High's brilliant Dave Dunbar today following his sensational half-mile victory at the Davis Relays last Saturday.

The smallish Ram senior from Daly City ran the 880 in 1:53.3—fastest time for the distance this year by a prep in the United States.

Dunbar, moving Coach Ernie Ribera's squad toward the Peninsula League championship, may break the national half-mile record of 1:52.2, set [illegible] Olympic ace Don Bow[illegible] when he attended San [illegible] Lincoln High.

Westmoor took third in [illegible] sity points at Davis, ta[illegible] also on Bruce Ryner's [illegible] place in the 880, Rich [illegible] more's third in the mil[illegible] Dave Vogl's 12-foot pole[illegible] The latter was a We[illegible] record.

The Rams won all 1[illegible]ay events. Dunbar took t[illegible]due 1:58 with Ryner s[illegible]nis- 1:59.5.

Mike Joseph won the 100 and 220, Jed Cyr the 440, Blakemore the mile, and Burnham the high hurdles.

South City won the B division, 65½-47½, and the C's, 62-24.

The Rams host Jefferson this Thursday and meet Capuchino there next Tuesday.

Cap Southpaw Halts Ram Nine With 3-Hitter

Westmoor High's varsity baseballers were knocked out of unbeaten leadership in the Peninsula League last Friday as Capuchino lefthander Daryl Weber stopped the Rams on three hits for a 3-0 victory.

The setback dropped Coach Rod Losberger's team to a tie for first with South City which beat Hillsdale, 6-2. Westmoor and SSF are 4-1 entering this week.

The Rams meet Hillsdale and lowly Mills on the road this week.

Losberger attributed Friday's loss to Weber's sharpness and Westmoor's "attitude." At the same time the young mentor said he hoped his Rams wouldn't get cocky again as "from here on out the going will be real tough."

Weber, a major league prospect, fanned 9 Rams and allowed but one walk. Ram righthander Dave Simons, suffering his first loss in five starts this season, yielded five hits, whiffed four and issued two bases on balls.

Cap got two runs in the first, featuring Weber's double and singles by Howell and Darragh, and Simons' wild pickoff try at second which got away into centerfield.

The Mustangs' final tally came in the second as Simons allowed a walk, unloosed a wild pitch and Howell singled to center. Ram hits—all in the third—were singles by Jim Heick, Dan O'Connor and Bill Reynolds—bottom of the lineup stickers.

Stumble Inn Defeats Baroni Softballers

Four-run rally in the eighth inning gave Stumble Inn a 5-1 win over Baroni's softballers Sunday in a battle of barmen at Westlake park.

Roy Storm's liner over third into leftfield was the key hit for the winners.

Driscol's Bat Zips PAL Yanks Over San Pedro

Roger Kucich's PAL Yankees Saturday warmed up for their Daly City Midget League debut by outlasting San Pedro Lunch's kids, 11-9, at Westlake park.

Dick Crofton and Alan Hayne scattered 10 hits as they shared mound duties. Benson was losing pitcher.

Centerfielder Dan Driscol led the Yanks' 12-hit attack with four for four at the plate. Jerry Donovan, Barry Martin, Dick Anderson and Haynes each got two hits for the winners.

Bob Doyle Hurls PAL Braves Past SSF Midgets, 7-2

Joe Doyle's Daly City PAL Braves, paced by the four-hit pitching of Bob Doyle, defeated the South San Francisco Midgets, 7-2, Friday in a practice game.

Young Doyle struck out 16 and had a no-hitter until the sixth inning. First baseman Jack Cayssials got two of the nine DC hits. Caselli was losing hurler.

VINCE & FRED BOWLERS TAKE CHAMPIONSHIP

For the fourth time in five years, Vince & Fred's bar barons won the DC-Colma Bowling League championship Tuesday night by downing first half champion Edisco, two games to one. Deciding game was won by 11 pins.

Gordon Kenny of Sanders Realty took top money in the sweepstakes with a 664 series. Red Williams of Rite-Way had a high scratch game of 214, also good for cash.

A huge team trophy and individual trophies went to the top-of-the-hill kingpins. They are Vince Merlo, Larry DeLucchi, Lloyd Selmi, Ralph Matteucci and John Palazzari.

Dick Holmberg's No-Hitter Wins For OLPH Nine

Dick Holmberg's no-hit pitching gave Our Lady of Perpetual Help School's sixth graders a 1-0 win over St. Emydius last Saturday in their CYO League opener.

Singles by Holmberg and Vince Lynch led to the game's lone run. Holmberg fanned 12 batters and walked two in the six-inning contest.

Manager of the OLPH team is Vern Waligora, recently with the Marines and a graduate of OLPH.

HOMETOWN BIGGIE

Ram, Tribe Harriers Collide In Turning Point Track Battle

Bob Watt's title-hopeful varsity track squad, unbeaten in three Peninsula League tests, collides with Westmoor's contending Rams this Thursday in a meet that could determine which of the Daly City schools will give odds-on San Mateo the jitters for the championship.

The Indians stomped on Burlingame in all three divisions there Friday. Varsity score was 61½-51½, B's ended 65⅓-47 2/3, and the C's outcome read 56-30. Sweep by Jeff marked the first time for the Indians against Burlingame in the history of their track engagements.

Jeff and SM's varsities lead the pack, followed by Capuchino and Ernie Ribera's Dave Dunbar-paced Rams with 2-1 records.

A win over Westmoor would put Watt's best-ever Jeff lads in the right mental frame for their showdown with San Mateo.

Indian varsity firsts against Burlingame featured Len Lamendola's wins in the 100 and 220, Ted Sailor's victory in the quarter mile, a 2:01.6 triumph by Felix Valdez in the 880, Dan Whitney's 4:44.9 mile, Art Banos on top in the 180 hurdles and winning relay anchor stint, and Jim Drake's 46-3½ winning shot put.

Jeff's B's, now 2-1, got wins in the 150 and 330 by Art Bilkey. His 38 flat in the 330 is second best in the league. Art also anchored the relay unit which won.

Joe Vaez took the B's 1320 in 3:30.1.

Watt's C's remained unconquered as Ray Javier kept busy, winning the 75 and 150-yard dashes, the shot put and anchoring the relay.

Jeff sends a contingent to the Martinez Relays this Saturday. Showdown with San Mateo is there next Tuesday, followed by a five-way meet at Westmoor on May 1.

WESTMOOR STUMBLES AGAIN

Don Staff Blanks Cap As Indians Shine, 4—0

Daly City's entries took different paths Tuesday in Peninsula League varsity baseball as South San Francisco grabbed first place with a 6-0 win over San Mateo.

Westmoor's Rams dropped their second straight and fell from a tie for first on the heels of a 5-2 loss at Hillsdale. Steve Mezzera's Jeff High Indians looked up with their second consecutive victory as sophomore Don Staff turned in another fine effort. He whitewashed Capuchino here on a three-hitter, 4-0.

The Tribe seems to have arrived—both at the plate and on the hill. Staff, of course, is the big spark. He halted Burlingame on two hits last week and was razor-sharp against Cap. The win Tuesday gave Jeff a 2-4 mark in a very wide open race. Westmoor is 4-2, tied for second with Hillsdale. South City is 5-1.

Jeff got three runs against Cap in the fourth and their final tally in the fifth. Triple by Roy Reitz and Ron Kalini featured the outburst in the fourth. Staff cemented a to job in the fifth with a home to left centerfield.

Reitz had 3 for 3 and Ca Keeling, second baseman, g 2 for 3 to give him 12 for 2 thus far, probably the best a erage in the league.

Dick Werner of Hillsda held Westmoor to five hits a his mates collected seven. Dic Reese, relieved by Dave Sim ons in the fifth, was tagge with the loss.

Big hurdle for Jeff this Fr day will be South City at th Warriors' home field, Orang Park, followed by a Friday g with Westmoor.

Westmoor meets Mills th Friday down south.

The Rams were handicappe by absence of shortstop Da O'Connor (out with the flu and the ailing status of secon sacker Jim Heick. Catcher To McHugh played shortstop an Eddie Walthard was behind th plate.

TRIBE STOMPS BURLINGAME BASEBALLERS

Soph Don Staff's two-hit hurling, backed by a 21-hit assault by his mates, gave Jeff High's varsity its first Peninsula League win in five starts Friday as the Indians massacred Burlingame here, 14-2.

The upsurge kept the Tribe out fo the cellar and tied them with San Mateo at the bottom of the loop with 1-4 records. Jeff met Capuchino (3-2) Tuesday here and faces tied-for-first South City there this Friday afternoon.

Staff's moundwork was superb after a rocky first inning when Burlingame got its runs. The swift sophomore retired 21 Panthers in order following the opening inning trouble.

Coach Steve Mezzera's DC nine, still in the chase and now much more confident, all but killed Panther pitchers Dave Shelberg and Don Glasgow.

Infielders Rich Mortola, Carl Keeling and Roy Reitz each rapped four hits. J. B. Berry, Hal Leininger (making his debut in the outfield) and senior vet Jerry Kennedy slapped two hits apiece.

Mortola and Keeling wielded the biggest bats. Rich had three singles and a homer. Carl's four for five included two triples and four runs-batted-in.

Jeff's big innings were a five-run fourth and a four-run fifth. All but reserve centerfielder Walt Carlson collected at least one hit.

In other Friday action, Westmoor dropped into a tie for first with South SF by losing to Cap, 3-0, South City bumped Hillsdale, 6-2.
